E. Stackhouse, T. C. O'Dell, W. A. Betts, J. E. Rushton, J. M. Rogers, and G. T. Harmon.

G. T. Harmon, at his own request, was referred to the committee on Conference Relations for the supernumerary relation.

A preamble and resolutions presented by J. E. Mahaffey were adopted as follows:

We note with great pleasure and profound gratitude the unusual prosperity of our Southland, and the still brighter prospect for the future. We rejoice in the larger opportunities which are now in the hands of our people for their own betterment and for the more rapid advancement of our Lord's kingdom, and we are convinced that it is an opportune time for our people to have laid upon their consciences, in no uncertain sound, their duty as to the use of this increased and increasing wealth. Some families whose children are uneducated spent enough money at carnivals this fall to have kept one of them at college a year.

It is a good time, yea an imperative necessity, that a more adequate support be provided for our religious institutions. The vast difference between the cost of living today and fifteen years ago, when provision was abundant and money scarce, is keenly felt by all who are dependent on fixed salaries. As is well known, many of our preachers have never been adequately supported, and even when the cost of living was 40 per cent. less than it is today, many of them went from place to place, year after year, hampered and embarrassed—sometimes unable to make ends meet—and, while there has been some improvement in recent years, still the increase in their support is not near in proportion to the increased cost of living, nor in proportion to the increased ability of our people.

Under the pressure of these conditions, some resort to side issues—a little farm, an agency, or some other business scheme—in the hope of feeding, clothing, and educating their children better. It is needless to hope that our Lord's work can be carried forward successfully by a preacher whose head is racked and whose heart and hands are thus divided.

The average allowance for a Methodist preacher, even now, is not as much as a one-mule farm on good rented land, to say nothing of the capital which the preacher has invested, and continues to invest, in his preparation. We do not ignore the fact that the ministry was never designed to be a money-making business—that in this respect it is different from all other vocations—nor can we ignore the further fact that every preacher is bound to provide for those of his own household, since, according to the New Testament, he "is worse than an infidel" if he does not do it. (1 Tim. 5:8). Methodist preachers have demonstrated their willingness to suffer privations, and are still willing to suffer where it is necessary; but in these prosperous times of our highly favored country there is no necessity for it. Therefore, be it

Resolved, First, That our presiding elders lay this matter on the consciences of the people on their first round in the new year, calling attention to the preacher's increased cost of living and their increased ability to provide for him.

Second, That we urge the different Boards of District Stewards, in order to relieve the Presiding Elder of all embarrassment in pursuing this course, to fix a definite amount for the support of the Presiding Elder, and prorate that amount to the different charges as the Discipline directs.

Third, That all together, Presiding Elders and pastors, we address ourselves to the task of rescuing our people from the floodtide of worldliness that threatens to sweep over our country in the form of foolish and frivolous amusements, and that we strive more earnestly, in the pulpit, in the homes of our people, and on our knees, to prepare the way for a revival of righteousness and temperance, and a harvest of souls into the kingdom of our Lord.

J. E. MAHAFFEY,
J. C. YONGUE,
JAS. L. QUINBY.

The second ballot for clerical alternates was reported, resulting in no election.

A third ballot for clerical alternates was ordered and taken, resulting in the election of H. W. Bays and R. E. Stackhouse.

On motion, Conference adjourned to meet in Memorial service tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Announcements were made and Conference adjourned with the doxology and the benediction by W. C. Power.

REPORTS.

Annual Report of the Board of Managers and Trustees of Epworth Orphanage for 1905.ANNUAL REVIEW.

The Conference year which has just closed has been another one of prosperity at the Epworth Orphanage. The Father of the fatherless has dealt lovingly and mercifully with His little ones here, and their daily needs have been supplied. Year by year there is among our people a more general knowledge of and a growing interest in the orphanage and its work, and a corresponding increase in the amount contributed for its maintenance and development. This is as it should be, and as it must be, if we meet the demands which are regularly made upon this growing institution.

The contributions from various sources during the year have been sufficient to meet the necessary living expenses and to continue the improvement of the orphanage from a material standpoint. The special support plan is still a favorite one with the management, and our people have endorsed it heartily. Fully as many pledges have been made for special support as were made last year, and the numbers on the list continue to grow. Circular letters to our pastors in charge and to the superintendents of Sunday schools have had numerous and generous responses, and the orphanage has been enabled to steer clear of debt. The superintendent has attended all of the District Conferences of the year save one, and has visited a number of the charges of the Conference, by the invitations of the pastors, in the interest of the work. A good per cent. of the special pledges was secured on these visits to Conferences and charges.

During the Conference year, we report the admission of 24 children into the orphanage, and 10 have gone out. All of those who have been dismissed have been returned to relatives. We now have 122 inmates, and others have been accepted to be admitted at an early date. The financial condition of the orphanage is better now than at any former period of its history. We report with pleasure the gift of $500 by Mr. T. M. Leonard, of Reidville, S. C., towards the building of the Guy Leonard Home, also the proffer of $3,000 by Mr. Geo. W. Williams, of Charleston, with which to build and furnish a girls' home in memory of his mother, Mrs. Martha Fort Williams.

FARM.

The seasons have not been such as to give the best results in gardening; still the vegetable crop has furnished a considerable supply of food for table use. On the whole, the yield from the field crops has been fairly good. Corn, oats, peas, potatoes and hay constitute the major part of the farm products. More cotton has been raised than usual, and a better price has been obtained.

We still manage to do all the hauling for the orphanage with our own teams. This saves considerable expense during the year in the matter of delivering building material upon the campus. The boys do most of the hauling.

MARBLE YARD AND PRINTING OFFICE.

These branches of industry have given employment to a number of the boys and to all of those who have been engaged as helpers. They have paid something more than expenses, and at the same time have furnished useful training to the boys assigned to these departments. The boys in the printing office are now doing all the work of the office without having an employed foreman.

One of our own boys has been appointed the leader and he directs affairs in the printing department. The efficiency to which these boys have attained, as well as those in the marble yard, is very gratifying.

HOUSEKEEPING.

The same system of work is operated as to the duties assigned to the girls of the orphanage. They are divided into sets, and are on duty in each department a month at a time. This arrangement gives them an opportunity to learn something of the work in all of the departments of domestic life.

BUILDING AND IMPROVEMENT.

During the year, the Nettles Home, which was reported as being in course of erection at the time of our last Annual Conference, has been completed, and is now occupied by the matron and 28 little girls. This building is neat and beautiful in architectural design, and makes a splendid appearance on the campus.

The work done in its construction is of a good character, strong and durable. In addition to the completion of this home, a much-needed office building, with two rooms, has been put up for the superintendent. It has been furnished with shelves and desks, in which are kept the books and papers belonging to the orphanage. Here all of the clerical work of the institution is done, which does away with the necessary intrusions into the private home of the superintendent, where this work was done formerly. We are pleased to report also that the work on the Guy Leonard Home was begun in the early part of September, and this home is now nearing completion. It is being built for boys, and when it is finished it will give room for the admission of 30 more homeless and fatherless little ones.

The orphanage graded school has an important part to do in the training and development of our children, and that part is being well done. We are pleased to say that the character of the work done by the teachers and the children is very gratifying.

When the ninth and tenth grades were added to the school it seemed to create, in the older children especially, an inspiration for knowledge they had never shown before. They saw new opportunities and are now striving for higher attainments. One new teacher was added to the teaching force in September, and now Professor Nabers and his four lady helpers, Misses Beasley, Godley, Wharton, and Magill, are doing faithful and efficient work.

RELIGIOUS.

Special attention is given to the religious training of the children. Morning worship is had before they enter upon the discharge of the duties of the day. Two religious services are held each Sunday, and frequently an extra prayer service during the week. These services and the influence of Christian lives have their results for good. Twenty-four of the children have united with the church this year, and a number have professed a saving faith in Christ. About all of the children that are old enough are now members of the church.

HEALTH.

The health record of the orphanage family continues good. There has been only one case of serious sickness during the year, and the sick one has recovered. The lives and health of the orphan family have been precious in His sight, and for four consecutive years there has not been a single death among them. As we look back upon the year that has just closed and note the many mercies which have come to the orphanage from the bountiful hand of our Heavenly Father, we feel called upon to gratefully acknowledge His goodness, and we thank Him and take courage.

The board, in closing this report, would ask to place on record a hearty and well merited endorsement of the administration and work of the superintendent. He and his colaborers in the institution have been most faithful and efficient in the discharge of their high and responsible duties.

The board has re-elected Brother W. B. Wharton as superintendent, and requests the presiding Bishop to appoint him to this work for the ensuing year.

A. J. STOKES, President.

AND. C. DIBBLE, Secretary.

Report of the Board of Education.

In the last half century we have passed through two phases of secular educational thought, particularly as to the specific aim of education. The first placed the emphasis on intellectual training. Inform and develop the mind, giving to the individual a more or less complete mastery of his faculties, and school and college have done their best for him. Knowledge and mental power made serviceable through training were the final products of this scholastic scheme. Under this idea morals and religion were not so much left out as that they were largely left to take care of themselves.

With the rapid unfolding of the world's material resources and with the insistent demand for expert workers to make these resources fully available, naturally came the conception that education should train for practical efficiency. That is to say that education partly failed if it did not prepare men and women for the common work of life. Hand as well as brain must be so trained as to fit men for bread winning careers. In this new conception morals and religion played a secondary part.

Now, however, another view is emerging, and each day sees the best educational thought practically unanimous concerning it. It is not enough to train hand and brain to their last limit of expert practical efficiency. School and college may do all of this, and yet fail in the most important matter—the development of the religious nature and the raising of character. Herein are thinkers finding the chief defect in our educational results. All are seeking to discover some method by which they may remedy it. Even a superficial reader of educational literature, or a general observer of educational gatherings knows that the one absorbing topic is religious education, how, while men and women are being trained in head and hand for the practical work of life, they may also be trained in their religious or spiritual natures as well.

But one hears a hubbub of voices and a confusion of tongues when one tries to discover definite methods in the matter of religious education. Men seem to find themselves at a loss to secure methods adapted to institutions whose students represent any and every form of belief and indeed of unbelief. In the nature of the case the difficulties seem insuperable. Therefore, if religious instruction be offered at all, it is apt to be timid, hesitant, and indefinite. It does not speak with authority.

These considerations seem to raise with fresh power the duty of the church in the matter of education. All along the church has persistently asserted that Christian character was to be the best and finest product of any scheme for the training of youth. In the fear that this phase of the question was being neglected, or would be, the various churches established and maintained their institutions. Every denominational college today stands as a concrete witness of the educational creed of the church—a creed that has for its fundamental article that men and women are best trained for their life work under strong, definite religious influences. It is worth considering that the best educational thought has finally come round to the church's view of the question.

This puts upon us the compulsion of being more and more active in forwarding and strengthening all our educational interests. We should so equip and endow them that they will be equal to the best in material resources. To this equality in this respect we shall add the power of a definite, authoritative method of religious instruction and training. In this way we can be offering no better service to our Lord, our State, and society.

WOFFORD COLLEGE.

The report of the president of Wofford College shows that institution to be in excellent condition, and growing in resources and patronage. The enrollment to this date in the College and Fitting School is 406,—246 in the College and 160 in the Fitting School. The number in the college is distributed as follows: Seniors, 23; Juniors, 42; Sophomores, 65; and Freshmen, 116. This Freshman enrollment not only greatly exceeds that of any class that has ever entered Wofford, but also exceeds the number that has ever entered any strictly academic institution in South Carolina since the war.

This enrollment is distributed according to States and counties as follows: Spartanburg, 110; Orangeburg, 28; Anderson, 23; Marion, Marlboro, Lee, Laurens, 16; Abbeville, 13; Williamsburg, York, 12; Greenville, 11; Cherokee, 9; Union, 8; Clarendon, 7; Bamberg, Georgetown, Greenwood, Richland, Sumter, 6; Berkeley, Fairfield, 5; Aiken, Barnwell, Darlington, Lexington, Oconee, Pickens, 4; Chester, Edgefield, 3; Beaufort, Chesterfield, Colleton, Florence, Hampton, Newberry, 2; Charleston, Dorchester, Kershaw, Lancaster, Saluda, 1. North Carolina, 6; Georgia, 4; Alabama, 3; Mississippi, 1; Texas, 1; Brazil, 1; Japan, 1. Of forty-one counties in the State, forty are represented, Horry, as last year, being the exception.

We call special attention to the new Fitting School building which has been found necessary to meet the increase in numbers there. But even with this building all available room is taken the present year. So we shall have to consider still further enlargement for next year. While this constantly enlarging patronage is a source of gratification, it brings with it its problems and difficulties. The classes in both the College and Fitting School are increasing beyond our present teaching force. There are twelve professors and instructors in College and four in the Fitting School. The demand is urgent that at least two men be added to the faculty of the College, and certainly one to the Fitting School. One chief element in the value of the kind of instruction we are offering at Wofford is to be found in the individual contact of professor with student. We are far from doing this as we should like on account of our limited income, it being a part of the financial policy of the College not to go in debt, but steadily to keep within its income. To do this requires the closest economy. One way of meeting the difficulty would be to limit the number of students in both College and Fitting School. But in the face of the demands upon these institutions in the way of patronage, this method would be manifestly unjust to our people. They evidently want their boys educated at Wofford.

Another way to meet the difficulty, and perhaps the only way at present, would be to increase the Conference assessment at least $1,000, until the endowment which is now being raised becomes sufficiently available. As is known, these new endowment notes are payable in installments running over four and five years. We are happy to say that Dr. Child is succeeding finely, and there is every prospect of his raising the $100,000 in two years. Our people are responding enthusiastically, and with a strong pull altogether Wofford will soon be in a condition to meet every demand upon her. But this is in the future, and does not meet our present emergency, with reference to an adequate teaching force. We lay this consideration before the Church for its consideration. Methodism in South Carolina has a great educational and religious asset in Wofford College—an asset that is increasing in value with each passing year. Its worth and work are known. It is easily one of the most reputable of Southern colleges. It depends for its support upon the benevolent interest of the Church, and the Church, we are sure, is not willing for its effectiveness to be limited by too few instructors, when a small amount of money would mean greater usefulness and enlarged service.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

The last year of the college in its old quarters was one of the best of its history. The financial exhibit of the college for that year shows that all current expenses were met with a balance in the treasury of the college. With this balance have been met the summer expenses, advertising, interest for six months on the bonds issued for the new buildings, $1,600 on furniture for same, with sundry expenses in fitting up the new college for the opening. Such financial management on the part of Dr. Daniel, the president, is worthy the highest commendation. The fall session was opened in the new building September 28. The opening hour was one of thrilling gratitude to God for what He had enabled us to accomplish. It may not be amiss here to review briefly the movement by which we have come to the possession of the present plant. Great as has been the work of the college in the past, and promising as its prospects appeared in the narrow limits of its surroundings, the consciousness has steadily grown upon the Church that the present times demand larger things and better equipment for our daughters. In 1901 the Board of Trustees decided to offer to the Conference definite suggestion for enlargement. Effort was made to have the college removed from Columbia, and liberal offers were made by various towns desiring its location. The Conference of 1902 decided that the college should remain in Columbia and authorized the raising of $50,000 for its enlargement and improvement. During the ensuing year Mr. F. H. Hyatt offered the college a site of twenty acres in the suburbs of Columbia, and he, with Dr. J. W. Murray and Mr. L. T. Wilds, made such further propositions as led the trustees to believe the removal of the college to the site offered was desirable. The trustees laid the proposition before the Conference of 1903, and the Conference gave them plenipotentiary power in the matter. In January, 1904, the trustees accepted the proposition of Mr. Hyatt, re-enforced by the further gift of an additional twenty acres from Col. John T. Sloan. Steps were immediately taken towards building. Several plans were offered by architects. The plans of Mr. A. W. Todd, of Charleston, were accepted. Under these the contract was let to Grandy & Jordan, October 28, 1904. Work immediately followed, and was pushed forward to completion by September 28th, 1905, at which time the college opened in its new quarters. These buildings are admittedly the best appointed in the South, with dormitory accommodations for 300 girls, and class rooms and other facilities for double that number.

The cost of the buildings alone was about $125,000. This amount was $75,000 less than other contractors bid. So it is a reasonable estimate to say we have a plant with all appurtenances worth not less than $175,000. When it is remembered that the old plant brought only $30,000, the half of which was alone realized as a net amount; and in its place a plant worth $175,000, the debt not exceeding $85,000, surely the achievement has been one in which is manifest the Divine Providence opening up through loyal friends means for accomplishing such splendid results.

We here make mention in high appreciation of the work of Brothers Edward Ehrlich, F. H. Hyatt and W. J. Murray, without whose financial endorsement and skill such results could not have been accomplished.

The opening went beyond expectation. There are in the college 192, and these, with the day students, give a total enrollment of 257. The student body does credit to our Church and College. They all are full of earnest purpose and are ready to address themselves to earnest work. Of the 192 boarders only one does not belong to the Woman's Christian Association, and but eight who are not members of the Church.

As $25,000 of the debt is not provided for, not being included in the amount in bonds, we recommend that the trustees elect an agent to raise this amount at once, and as a Conference we do hereby obligate ourselves to assist this agent in every way possible.

LANDER COLLEGE.

Lander College has had a very successful year. The enrollment for 1904-5, the first year at Greenwood, reached the gratifying number of 158 in literary work, to which must be added 20 special students, making a total enrollment of 178. During this same period six students graduated. Gifts during the period amounted in money value to $1,200. Improvements on the handsome college building and grounds were steadily made. The outlay for such improvements exceeded $1,500.

The opening in September was excellent. The college dormitories are practically full. The character of the new student body is fully equal to that of the past year. The work is being seriously performed. Two have graduated since the opening. The efficient faculty of this institution has been strengthened by the addition of two new teachers.

The popularity of Lander College is evidenced by its full dormitories and recitation rooms. There was no canvass made for students because of lack of room for more than had applied. The necessity for another dormitory is recognized. It is hoped the necessity may be met as early as possible. Room for every Methodist girl seeking a college education should be made in the schools of the Church. Thus alone can the Church meet her obligations to her daughters.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

Dr. J. D. Hammond, secretary of education, reports the loss sustained by the university as being repaired. The outlook for the future is brighter than ever before in its history. Vanderbilt is our university, and we give to it our full endorsement.

Resolved, That the trustees of the Twentieth Century Fund pay to Vanderbilt two thousand dollars of the undivided money now on hand.

FITTING SCHOOLS.

Our three Fitting Schools are all enjoying unusual prosperity. They fill an indispensable place in our educational work and are worthy the confidence and patronage of our people.

We nominate M. L. Carlisle as a trustee of Columbia College to fill the vacancy caused by the death of W. A. Pitts.

We appoint Rev. J. B. Wilson to preach the sermon to the undergraduates.

We nominate A. N. Brunson on Committee of Examinations for fourth year, in place of W. A. Pitts, deceased.

We ask that $7,500 be raised for Wofford College; $751 for General Education, and $751 for Paine and Lane.

We request the Bishop to make the following appointments: J. W. Kilgo, secretary of education; W. W. Daniel, president of Columbia College; John O. Willson, president of Lander College; G. W. Walker, president of Paine Institute; L. F. Beaty, assistant Sunday School Editor; R. A. Child, financial agent of Wofford College, and S. H. Zimmerman, agent for the Columbia College, P. C. Garriss and J. H. Graves as students to Vanderbilt University.

H. B. BROWNE, Pres.

JAS. W. KILGO, Sec'ty.

Sunday School Board.

It gives the Sunday School Board great pleasure to report that gratifying progress has been made in the Sunday School work this year. The work is one of fundamental importance, and the board will do all in its power to make it more thorough and successful. For this reason there are several things to which special attention is called.

The preachers and superintendents are especially urged to give greater attention to the teaching of the Bible. From what is learned there is great lack of knowledge of the history given in the Bible as well as of the doctrines taught by it. Attention is also called to the importance of organizing a Home Department in each school. This will prove a valued factor in the work of the school and the church. With this is also urged the importance of forming cradle rolls.

Decision Day is worthy of great consideration. Wisely used, it will prove a great and eternal blessing, and careful attention is asked to it.

The Institute at Wrightsville Beach will be held in 1906. This Institute is regarded as a great means of usefulness to the Sunday school workers. Great effort will be made to make this 1906 Institute surpass what has been done. The faculty will be strengthened and a number of thoroughly competent teachers and speakers will be present.

The importance of the Sunday school work is so great that additional effort must be made to do it properly. It is the present intention of the board to ask for a State Sunday School secretary at the next session of the Annual Conference.

The members of the board have been appointed a committee to present the Sunday school work in their respective districts, and the Presiding Elders are requested to give them an opportunity to bring it before the District Conferences.

A year book was successfully issued this year, and one will be sent out during the early part of 1906.

Children's Day has been much more largely observed this year, and it is believed will be still more generally regarded next year. The Children's Day fund for 1905 is more than two hundred dollars in excess of 1904.

The blessing of God has been upon the work this year, and we pray His continued blessing. There is a bright future in this work.

Temperance.

We observe with gratitude the growing sentiment for temperance manifested in the banishment of the sale of liquors from several counties of our State, and the movements to rid it from still others. We believe these expressions of sentiment to be the outgrowth of the untiring labors of the Church in opposition to the liquor traffic.

The duty of the Church regarding it is plainly expressed in its law fordidding the sale and use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage by any member, and a conscientious compliance with the law is strongly urged.

We think it well to reaffirm the position of the Church to be that we cannot give our support to any method of control which permits the use or sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and the Church should remain active until the entire State is rid of the evil.

We desire again to express our approval of and extend our encouragement to those agencies at work in our State which are contributing help to the efforts of the Church for the upbuilding of a sentiment in opposition to intemperance. And we mention especially the Christian Temperance Workers, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the State Temperance Law and Order League, and the publication known as the Christian Temperance Worker.

Rev. C. B. Smith and Rev. W. I. Herbert, of the committee, have been requested by the committee to make some remarks in connection with this report.

Respectfully submitted,

J. W. Hamel, Chairman.

W. I. Herbert, Secretary.

District Conference Journals.

We are pleased to record the fact that all of the District Conference Journals were before the committee. They are all well and neatly kept.

We recommend that the marginal indexes be continued in each Journal. We commend this feature of the Cokesbury and Marion Districts.

We also recommend that the Journals of each district, as they are completed, be deposited in the archives of the Historical Society.

R. E. Stackhouse, Chairman.

Peter Stokes, Secretary.

American Bible Society.

The ninetieth anniversary of the organization of the American Bible Society falls on the 8th of May, 1906. The Board of Managers is taking steps looking to a proper observance of this ninetieth anniversary by churches, ecclesiastical bodies, and by the whole constituency of the society.

Dr. T. H. Law, field agent for South Carolina, in his address before our Conference, spoke of the growing work of the society in this and in foreign lands. Last year the society distributed at home and abroad 1,831,096 copies of the Scriptures, being an increase over the previous year of 60,205 volumes. The total issues of the society since its organization amount to 76,272,770 copies.

The income of the society fell off again last year, and seriously, in the receipts from legacies, which the annual report shows to have almost failed to be a dependable resource. The all-important work of the society is hindered for lack of funds.

The South Carolina Conference is not doing enough for this great cause. Last year less than half the churches of this Conference made contributions to the American Bible Society.

W. A. Betts, Chairman.

G. F. Clarkson, Secretary.

Minutes.

Your Committee on Minutes beg leave to report:

We have examined the financial statement of the secretary and find same correct.

The sum of $794.48 has been received from the Joint Board of Finance on assessment of present year.

We nominate Revs E. O. Watson and S. H. Zimmerman editors of the Minutes for this year.

We recommend—

First. That an assessment of $1,000 be made on the Conference, and that $50 of this $1,000 be allowed the secretary for general expenses.

Second. That the editors publish, if possible, not less than six to seven thousand copies of the Minutes.

Third. That the Statistical Secretary, Rev. S. H. Zimmerman, be authorized to dispose of the Burroughs Adding Machine and replace it with a Felt and Tarrant's Comptometer Fourth. That recommendation I. of the report of the Committee on Minutes for 1904 be observed by the secretary.

We wish further to assure the editors of our high appreciation of their labors and the splendid edition of the Minutes of 1904, and trust they will get the Minutes of the present session into the hands of the preachers not later than February 1, 1906.

Jesse J. Stevenson, Chairman,

A. C. Dibble, Secretary.

Books and Periodicals.

There is no subject of more vital importance to the welfare, stability and growth of our church than that of Christian literature. The books, papers and magazines that go into the homes of our people can and do accomplish great mental and spiritual results. This question of good, clean, inspiring Christian literature cannot be too much emphasized in this day of so much worthless and positively poisonous printed matter.

This committee highly recommends our Sunday school literature. Among our Sunday school publications, special mention should be made of our Sunday School Magazine and Children's Visitor. Both of these are truly great.

Our Christian Advocate, at Nashville, deserves the liberal patronage of our people, and we learn with pleasure of the contemplated improvements to be made at an early date,

Our Methodist Quarterly Review easily takes rank with the great magazines of today.

The committee heartily recommends to our people the books written by the leaders of our Church. These books deserve to be read by our Methodist people. Especially ought they to be read by the young preachers of our Church.

The Southern Christian Advocate is very good. The editorial page has been free from pious cant and threadbare religious phraseology, and has been filled with pertinent and timely articles. Many of these articles, in both matter and style, have risen high above the flat, dull, heavy and spiritless productions that so often make worse than useless the editorial columns of church papers. The page on current events and stirring questions of the day has been equally as good as the first page. Other departments of the paper have been interesting, helpful and full of information. The committee would suggest that the preachers of the Conference take more interest in writing for our paper.

The committee also recommends Mr. C. S. Stone, of Stone & Barringer Co., who has the appointment as Conference sale agent of the two North Carolina Conferences as official sale agent of the South Carolina Conference.

This committee recommends the appointment of Rev. G. H. Waddell and Rev. S. A. Nettles as editors and publishers of the Southern Christian Advocate for the year 1906.

Waddy T. Duncan, Chairman.

L. P. McGee, Secretary.

Sabbath Observance.

Rest to the human body is as important as nourishment. The withholding of either weakens and debilitates, so that there is less power to resist disease or induce service. It has been found upon careful investigation, and proven by experience that the human body needs, not only the rest of the night, but, in addition, one full day's rest in every seven, that it may be in the best condition. The Sabbath was made for man, and must be made helpful and not hurtful to him.

God demands one day in seven for the purposes of eternal life. We must not invade His day except in a real necessity—an emergency which cannot be anticipated or avoided. The Lord's Day was ordained in order to give rest to the human body and time for heart acquaintance with God. It is a holy pause in the ordinary work and sport, that He may have opportunity to take full possession of man's being, cleanse out all the evil that has fastened on the soul during the rush of business and pleasure, and restore and perfect its union with and likeness to Himself, and thus make it strong to be and do the noblest and purest of all the week. When the soul has such a weekly day with God, it keeps so in tune with Him that no rush of business on other days can hinder its hearing His voice and being conscious of His presence. Without such a day real Christian life is impossible.

Your committee would call attention to the growing tendency in our larger towns and cities to keep open during the entire Lord's Day public libraries and clubs, and recommend that our people use the Holy Sabbath as a day of rest and worship.

We affirm our past utterances against the use of Sunday trains, Sunday mails, and especially Sunday excursion trains, and other so-called works of necessity, such as are continuously practiced in our manufacturing plants.

T. E. MORRIS, Chairman.

G. EMORY EDWARDS, Sec'y.

Report of the Board of Missions.

We have reason to believe that the missionary cause is getting a firmer hold upon our people. And yet the necessity is upon us to stress still further the importance of this work, for the Church is embarrassed by the opportunities before her. Material prosperity has come to our people. We have, therefore, reason to look to them for increased giving. The support of missionaries by individuals or by congregations should be more general. The General Board of Missions is disseminating vigorous missionary literature. Especially do we call attention to the periodical Go Forward. It is worthy of the largest circulation. We commend the Mission Study Circle to our pastors and urge them wherever practicable to form such circles.

We call attention to the Missionary Training School in Nashville next January and February. Much good will come to any one who attends this school.

Your board has carefully considered the missionary fields of the Conference. Methodism has always had a mission to the poor and needy. Much of the money which we are investing in this work is yielding good returns. On the other hand, many of our domestic missions do not show much gain in the ability or willingness to help themselves. Your board feels that it is time to throw some of these charges upon their own resources. In accordance with this, the following resolution has been adopted by the board:

"Resolved, That the Board of Missions will make next year appropriations in aid of those charges only which are absolutely unable without help to be continued, or which by being helped temporarily will thereby the sooner be made self-sustaining."

The resignation of J. E. Carlisle as a trustee of the Belin Fund has been accepted, and W. I. Herbert has been elected to fill the vacancy.

We ask the appointment of P. F. Kilgo as Conference secretary of missions.

In Memoriam.

Memoirs of Preachers who Died During the Year 1905.

Bishop R. K. Hargrove.

Robert Kennon Hargrove was born in Pickens county, Alabama, September 17, 1829. He died at his home in Nashville, Tenn., shortly after midnight of August 3, 1905.

Two facts contributed largely to that intellectual culture for which nature had so richly endowed him, and to which he so eminently attained. The first of these facts was that an intelligent and pious father planned wisely and well for the education of the boy, striving ever to put the best opportunities within the reach of his child. The second fact was that young Hargrove, in the plastic and most critical period of life, was fortunately brought under the masterful influence of one of the South's greatest educators, the ever-venerable Landon C. Garland.

Bishop Hargrove graduated from the University of Alabama in 1852, with the degree of Master of Arts. At a very early period in his theological career he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Emory College.

In early manhood he was elected to a professorship in his Alma Mater, in which position he had a prospect of a successful career wholly congenial to his disposition and talents. But under the constraining influence of a deep sense of conviction he surrendered this position and prospect in order to enter the itinerant ministry of the Methodist Church. For fifty years he rendered most acceptable service as a faithful and honored member of that self-sacrificing brotherhood. He shirked none of the responsibilities; he evaded none of the duties imposed upon him. As a result, his brethren heaped upon him various titles of honor and positions of trust, expressive of their esteem and confidence, crowning it all at last with that evidence of trust signified by electing him to the office of a Bishop, which, while it was the highest honor they could confer, also carried with it the heaviest burdens and most arduous duties. He was elected Bishop in 1882, being thus honored by a General Conference of which he was not a member.

The powers of a statesman were recognized in him, and he was called to great and delicate duties. He was admirably adapted to great problems of the Church, and met them in wonderful wisdom. He represented the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the Cape May Commission in 1876, and in the Committee of Federation in 1898.

His superannuation in 1902 was due almost wholly to an increasing deafness, which greatly hampered him in presiding over the deliberations of the Conferences. At the time there seemed to be no other signs of physical infirmity. But God seems to have called his faithful servant aside that he might rest awhile, preparatory to the long journey to that distant country from whose bourne no traveler ever returns. For soon after his superannuation his hitherto erect form began to totter and his formerly steady nerves began to show signs of an approaching breakdown. In the early part of the present year he suffered a collapse from which he never fully recovered. His strong constitution, however, held on, though often he seemed at death's door, till after about four days of rapid decline the weary worker lay down to sleep and waked no more on earth.

Bishop Hargrove was married twice. On November 10, 1852, he was married to Miss Harriet C. Scott, and in 1898 to Mrs. Ruth E. Scarritt.

Twice during his episcopal career the Bishop presided over the South Carolina Conference—at Sumter in 1893, and at Chester in 1900. He gave great satisfaction, both in his preaching and in official administration, deeply ingratiating himself into the hearts of the brethren. All his dealings with the Conference were characterized by kindness and Christian courtesy. Those who were present on Sunday morning at the Sumter Conference will never forget his clear and strong sermon on "The Character of Judas." His preaching was ever characterized by clearness in expression and faithfulness to the very heart of the Gospel.

As a Bishop he was unassuming and accessible, being open to all the information and advice necessary for making up an opinion. But those who have had opportunity to know testify that when once he had reached a decision and settled upon a policy, he was a dauntless administrator.

The funeral was held in West End Church, Nashville, August 4, 1905, and was largely attended. A very large group of ministers from Nashville and vicinity acted as honorary pallbearers. Bishops Galloway and Fitzgerald, Drs. Orman, Green, Tillet, Lambuth and Chappell took part in the service. The feature of the occasion was the eloquent address delivered by Bishop Galloway. It was published in the Nashville Advocate, and doubtless I shall be pardoned for closing this inadequate sketch of a great and useful life by quoting a few excerpts from this able address.

Among other things, Bishop Galloway said :

"We have come to bury a great and good man—a man whose faults were few, whose virtues were many, whose gifts were eminent, whose labors were abundant, whose life was a blessing, and whose memory will be a benediction. He lived a pure life and died a peaceful death. His days were a ceaseless ministry, his modest religious experience a series of epiphanies of his risen Lord, and his death a joyous translation. To a good age he was privileged to live and labor, and now has fallen on sleep without a blur on his name or a stain on his shield.

"Among the apostolic men of American Methodism, the pure name of Bishop Hargrove must ever have an honored place. Others may have been more conspicuous, but none served their Lord and fellow men with purer purpose or holier faith or more unselfish love. Others may have had more brilliant genius and picturesque qualities, but none excelled him in the singleness of his devotion and his unfaltering fidelity to duty.

"The best blood of this Western world flowed in his generous veins, and the richest traditions of American Methodism were his priceless heritage. His grandfather, a planter and local preacher, was a cousin of Bishop McKendree, the greatest ecclesiastical statesman known to the constitutional history of our apostolic Church. His father was for fifty years a class leader, as devout as Carvosso, and the spiritual guide of a number of young men who afterwards became distinguished ministers of the New Testament, and whose names are writ-large in the history of American Christianity. In a home of culture and piety, and with all the advantages of wealth, this noble man and princely gentleman was trained for his distinguished life work.

"He was preeminently distinguished for the dignity and purity of his stainless life. His manly form, as erect as a military commander, and yet as modest as a maiden, betokened the strength and symmetry of the royal soul it so handsomely enshrined. He looked like a man of lofty ideals and pure purposes and majestic character. And in all his public career, which was not exempt from trying experiences and stormy passages, he was never suspected of being dominated by motives unworthy the religion of his risen Lord. However others might differ with him in matters of judgment or policy, the honesty of his convictions was never impeached, and the loyalty of his devotion to what he conceived to be right and just was never an open question.

"A man of cleaner lips and purer speech never adorned the history of the American pulpit. Coarseness fled from his refined presence, and anything less pure than his Lord's gospel was impossible to lips that had been cleansed by a live coal from off the high altar of the heavenly temple.

"Another distinguishing characteristic of Bishop Hargrove was his perfect sincerity. He seemed to me to be incapable of a sinister motive. He could not be indirect or insincere. He moved upon straight lines. There was never any occasion for doubt, or even surmise, as to his attitude on any issue or his position on any question of principle or policy. Absolutely upright and fearlessly straightforward himself, he had scant respect for cautious diplomacy or studied concealment in any one else. While never a gossip about his plans and the administrative affairs of the church, he had no State secrets or whispered confidences. For ecclesiastical politics he had instinctive and extreme aversion. As open as the daylight was the sincere and sunny soul of this apostolic man. And his long life was an epistle read by all men; in it there were no mysteries to explain, and no doubtful or difficult passages to translate.

"He was a man of clear and firm convictions—the stuff out of which heroes and martyrs are made. While profoundly deferential to the opinions of others, he never changed or surrendered his own except at the end of convincing argument and fuller information. In the matter of principle he had the courage to stand alone. He was not a reed shaken by the wind, nor a man clothed in soft raiment. When duty called, he had a steady step and an unbalanced cheek and an intrepid spirit.

But withal he was the very soul of chivalry and the finest flower of genuine Christian courtesy. What a knightly gentleman he was! No prince of the blood or gallant chief of the Highlands ever bore himself with nobler mein than did this genial and gracious leader of the hosts of Israel. Any summary of his virtue would be incomplete without mentioning his fearless fidelity to duty.

"He served the Church in many places of great responsibility, and always with acknowledged ability and conspicuous fidelity. No interest committed to his hands was ever slighted, and no duty was ever neglected."

Rev. William Alewine Pitts.

Rev. William Alewine Pitts, son of Reuben G. and Martha Pitts, was born near Clinton, Laurens county, S. C., September 14th, 1865, and died at the same old homestead of his father October 12, 1905, at the age of forty years.

He came of sturdy Methodist stock, his mother being a sister of Rev. W. P. Meadows, of our Conference. Under the ministry of Rev. D. P. Boyd he was soundly converted and connected himself with our church.

He had the advantages of the good schools of his community and spent four years at Wofford College, where he graduated with honors and the high esteem of both faculty and student body.

His call to preach was clear and distinct, and after teaching school at Jordan, Clarendon county, S. C., for one year, he was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference, November, 1894, at Laurens, the county seat of the county in which he was born and converted and died.

He served York Circuit 1895 and 1896 ; Jordan Circuit 1897 to 1900 ; Orangeburg Circuit 1901 to 1903, and Providence Circuit 1904 and 1905.

The words of the wise man, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might," was strikingly exemplified in his life. He put himself and all of himself into whatever he undertook to achieve. This contributed largely to the success which he wrought out in all the fields in which he labored.

He has impressed himself—written his name in every charge he has served. Faithful work, gracious achievements, noble deeds wrote his record.

His Christly character, in its high, noble, strong, devoted manliness has stood out before men—has loomed up above men, and has impressed men with the desirability of Christian manliness.

No man liked to go into battle better than he liked to battle for the right. His place was always in the front ranks, on the firing line, in the thick of the fight. He knew no other place and could be found at no other place. It was only thus, battling for the right, that the whole man was aroused and all of his strength came into action.

No one despised a sham more than he, and almost instinctively he detected those that he came in contact with and by some master stroke would lay them bare to the eyes of men.

He was a strong, thoughtful and practical gospel preacher, and a fine speaker. His sermons were clear cut, delivered with simplicity, and clothed with a peculiar force and power, and went home to the heart.

At the camp meetings in the Orangeburg District, for several years he was among those to preach to the great crowds of people on Sunday, and they heard him gladly, and his gospel was one of power.

He was a growing man. His ideals were high, and by study and work he was ever attaining towards them.

I, who was his Presiding Elder for the last three years, found him as true in his friendships and as faithful in doing all the work of the church as any man I have ever known. I never had any uneasiness about any trust committed to his hands.

Brother Pitts did what other Wofford men have done—married a Columbia College graduate. Miss Sue A. Davis, daughter of Hon. C. M. Davis, of Summerton, S. C., became his wife February 17, 1897. United in heart and the work of the church, their married life was a happy one. Their home was blessed by five children, one of whom was so marvelously rescued by his mother as he fell out of the window of the train that was bearing his father to the old homestead to die. May he and the other children and the brave mother ever have the protecting care of our living Father.

It was a great shock as we realized Brother Pitts' condition and then in a few days his death. It came like a clap of thunder from a cloudless sky to his charge, the Providence Church, where he had labored so wisely, and where he had built and painted one of the nicest two-story parsonages in the Conference, and where he was so greatly beloved.

He had a great will power, and he fought hard to live. He had no fear, none whatever, but he wanted to live to work for God. Medical skill, loving care could not keep him. The Master wanted him above.

At the old homestead, near Clinton, surrounded by wife and children, father and mother, brothers and sisters, he went to meet the Lord. We laid his body in the cemetery at Clinton, and know that his spirit is exulting in the glory of God.

From a human standpoint it would appear that a great mistake had been made in taking out of the working force of the Church one who was just reaching his prime, one who was so skillful, so forceful, aggressive, so successful, so wise in his counsels—one whose life was so rich in promise of usefulness to the church as Brother Pitts. But God has called him to higher spheres of action, where his courageous spirit can work and battle on for the right.

In our fancy we see our brother standing at the portals of the city of God—tall, erect—that long arm goes up as if to attract our attention—the lips move—and these are the words that come floating down to us

“O friends of mortal years,
The trusted and the true,
Ye are watching still in the valley of tears,
But I wait to welcome you.

Do I forget? O no!
For memory's golden chain
Still binds my heart to the hearts below,
Till they meet to touch again.

Then why should your tears run down,
Or your hearts be sorely riven,
For another gem is in the Saviour's crown,
And another seed in heaven.”

MARION DARGAN.

Rev. John Mason Carlisle (1826-1905.)

The Rev. J. M. Carlisle, whose death during the current Conference year we are met to record and to commemorate, was during the many years of his active usefulness in the South Carolina Conference a man of mark among us. He was conscientious and faithful and successful in the difficult lines of work in the various fields in which he labored; but it was as a preacher of the Gospel that he will be best remembered. He was a preacher of very unusual acceptance and ability, and his well-assured reputation for this began in his early connection with the Conference and continued to the close of his public ministry. He was a growing preacher from start to finish. He was appointed in his third year to the Pendleton Circuit, and he at once attained to great popularity and usefulness in all that section of our South Carolina Piedmont. It is quite likely that no preacher of our Conference has ever had just such a place in the admiration and loving confidence of that section of our State in which at different times he served six pastoral charges. Since his superannuation, in 1887, I have heard appreciative discriminating reference made to his preaching, when for example he would occasionally occupy the pulpits of his two sons in our Conference. Within the past several years he and his two sons were appointed to the Chester Station, the two-years pastorate of the father intervening by short intervals between the two-years pastorates of the sons: a fine record this, in which two worthy sons contest with their honored father in the labor and glory of consecrated and fruitful service, and in which all three are pleasantly and gratefully remembered.

He was well educated, first, in the schools of Chester District—the home of his boyhood—and then at our Cokesbury Conference School, our leading educational centre in those days. On such foundation he was a wise master-builder. His education was the growth of his after life. He taught for eight years, during three of which he was president of the Holston Conference Female College, at Asheville, N. C. This excellent educational equipment accounts largely for the high literary style of his preaching. He always expressed himself both with facility and felicity. And then he studied with pen in hand. Says his oldest son: "Father was a thinking man, and wrote a great deal on sermons, but very little on other things." His sermons, when written out in full, were in the essay style rather than in the traditional homiletical style. He sometimes read his sermons, following his manuscript closely,—and he did this with fine effect. He was always a pleasing speaker, and sometimes he spoke with very considerable unction and with power. He was an original thinker; but all his thinking was along safe, evangelical lines. He was a firm believer in the Wesleyan type of Arminian theology; and he preached what he believed with intelligence and spiritual fervor. The only criticism I feel like adventuring is that his more elaborate sermons each covered too much ground for a single discourse. He will be remembered in the Conference, and especially in those parts of it where his ministry was most exercised, as one of our very strongest men—one of our best furnished and most edifying preachers.

My first thought of him in my early acquaintance with him was that he was prematurely venerable—venerable in solemn and dignified demeanor before he became venerable in years. His style in the pulpit was the perfection of pulpit decorum. He was ever grave and serious. There was never a bid for a laugh or even a smile in what he said or how he said it.

At church, with meek and unaffected grace,
His looks adorned the venerable place ;
Truth from his lips prevailed with double sway,
And fools, who came to scoff, remained to pray.

It was his highest distinction, which is the highest possible distinction of any man, that he was a holy man of God. Joining the Methodist Church at sixteen years of age, he adorned the doctrine of Christ, his Saviour, for nearly sixty-three years. Like Enoch, he walked with God ; like Abraham, he walked before God. For many, many years his conversation (i. e, his citizenship) was in heaven. I followed him in the pastorate of Union in 1886. Said one who knew him and loved him there : "It was good preaching to see him walk the streets of our town." He took leave of our Conference at Greenville, two years ago. It was a most impressive object-lesson. Modestly, sweetly, Christianly, he reaffirmed his confidence in God and his hope in Him.

Mr. Carlisle was of Scotch-Irish ancestry. His paternal grandparents (James and Mary Carlisle) emigrated in 1821 with their family from County Antrim—away up there in the extreme north of Ireland, the section in the "old country" of Protestants and Presbyterians : and sailed direct from Belfast to Charleston. They settled near Winnsboro. His father, for whom he was named, married Susan Mason in 1825. The Masons came from Virginia to Fairfield in 1796. He came of good stock. It is not near so important who my grandfather was as what sort of a grandson he has in me ; but you'll have to go a long way before you find a good man who doesn't have a pardonable pride in tracing his forebears to the North of Ireland and to Old Virginia.

He was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference December 25, 1844. He traveled Columbia Circuit in 1845 ; Edgefield, 1846 ; Pendleton, 1847 ; Montgomery (N. C.), 1848. Bishop Capers ordained him deacon in 1846, and elder in 1848. He located in 1848. He re-entered in December, 1859, and served as follows: Ninety-Six Circuit, 1860-61 (part of 1861 he was chaplain in the Confederate army with Seventh Regiment, S. C. Volunteers); Cokesbury Circuit, in 1862-63 (part of 1863 he was again chaplain with the same regiment); Pendleton Circuit, 1864-65; Mt. Zion Circuit, 1866; Walhalla Circuit, 1867; Pickens Circuit, 1868; Williamston Circuit, 1869; Tumbling Shoals Circuit, 1870; Trinity, Charleston, 1871; Sumter Station, 1872-3-4; Bennettsville Circuit, 1875-6; Spartanburg Station, 1877-8; Spartanburg District, 1879-80-81-82; Chester Station, 1883-4; Union Station, 1885-6; Laurens Station, 1887. It will be observed that his appointments range from the humblest charges to the most difficult and important. I have known something of him in both extremes of his varied work, and it always seemed to me that he was equally well adapted to the one and the other. He never sought promotion nor prominence, but got it all the same. He was worthy.

He was married to Miss Elizabeth Catharine Sharpe, of Pendleton, South Carolina, on April 30th, 1850. Of this union seven children were born: John Elam, William Mason, Edwin Sharpe, James Buchanan, Charles Henry, Susan Elizabeth and Marcus Lee. The oldest and the youngest of these are members of the South Carolina Conference. One has died, viz: William Mason, who fell a victim to yellow fever in the city of Charleston, September 27, 1871. Mrs. Carlisle, the beloved wife and mother, died in Spartanburg, February 12, 1889, after nearly thirty-nine years of married life. Her lovely Christian character and her sweet and refined face are vividly remembered by the writer of this memorial tribute. Living, dying, she was the Lord's. An ideal family this, the children all members of the Methodist Church, following their parents as they followed Christ.

Born in Fairfield District, Oct. 29th, 1826—died in the city of Spartanburg, June 7, 1905. Between these two dates were comprehended whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honorable (see Revised Version), whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely and whatsoever things are of good report, as they were exemplified in the blameless and harmless life of our recently ascended and now sainted friend and brother, John Mason Carlisle. "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace."

"O happy, happy soul!
In ecstasies of praise,
Long as eternal ages roll,
Thou seest thy Savior's face.
Redeemed from earth and pain,
Ah! when shall we ascend,
And all in Jesus' presence reign
With our translated friend."

SAMUEL A. WEBER.

During this year death claimed an unusually large number of the wives and widows of members of the South Carolina Conference. Some were at the threshold of life, some in the meridian years, others had reached the days of "age and feebleness extreme." Some fell on sleep in sight of the mountain crests of the Piedmont, some in the hills and plains of the middle lands of our State, and some in the sound of the sighing pines of the lowlands. As one by one they passed to Christian woman's everlasting reward, we sympathized with the bereaved. Now we record brief but sincere tributes to the gentle sharers of our toils and triumphs, the tender comforters of our sorrows and sufferings.

1. Mrs. Hannah Finger, widow of the late Rev. John Finger, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Murdaugh, at Bamberg, S. C., on February 21, 1905. In early womanhood she gave her heart and hand to the then young itinerant, and during all his long life was a helpmeet indeed. Simple faith in Christ and sincere pleasure in doing good to her fellows marked all the years of her pilgrimage.

2. Mrs. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Patrick, and wife of Rev. James C. Davis, was born in Marlboro county, S. C., July 26, 1862. She was converted and joined our church at the age of eight years, under the ministry of Rev. E. T. Hodges, was married December 3, 1878, and fell on sleep June 16, 1905. Her life was consistent, her helpfulness to her husband and others was unceasing, her trust in God unfaltering.

3. Mrs. Julia F. Smith, widow of the late Rev. James F. Smith, departed this life at a ripe old age. For many years she lived in the city of Spartanburg, and her face was familiar in this sanctuary and those preceding it. All her life long she walked with God, and her good deeds will be remembered by many who knew her faithfulness and saw her labors of love.

4. Mrs. Rebecca Kenney Manning, wife of Rev. John Manning, entered into rest during 1905. She was the "salt of the earth"—a Christian woman whose days were filled with kindly sympathies, gentle words, and helpful deeds to the home and all beside, and whose memory is sweet to all who knew her.

5. Mrs. Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hunt, and wife of the Rev. J. Walter Daniel, died in the city of Columbia, September 11, 1905, aged forty-eight years. She fulfilled faithfully the high and holy duties of wife, mother, friend, and Christian, and leaves the tenderest memories as an inspiration and consolation to all who came within the circle of her devoted life.

6. Mrs. Nannie Rebecca Creighton, daughter of the late Rev. A. J. Cauthen, and wife of the Rev. C. W. Creighton, was born September 30, 1859, and passed to her eternal reward September 14, 1905. Her whole life was spent in the itinerant ranks, and all of it was worthy of such opportunity. A consecrated and faithful servant of the Lord Jesus, a woman of gentle and kindly spirit, she was the charm of home and a light to the world without.

7. Mrs. Eula Stockman Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stockman, and wife of Rev. W. P. Way, was the last called from our midst to the company of the redeemed in heaven. She was born June 16, 1886, was married December 6, 1904, and was suddenly summoned on high September 29, 1905. Her short life was so beautiful, her faith so steadfast, her companionship so devoted, that the bereaved have surest hope and sweetest comfort.

These seven are not lost. They have only gone before us. On the fields of the blessed they await our coming. May we, like them, be faithful unto death and receive with them a crown of everlasting life.

The South Carolina Annual Conference met in Central M. E. Church, South, Spartanburg, S. C., Dec. 16, 1905, at 3:30 P. M., Rev. R. A. Child, President, in the chair. The Secretary read the report of the Board of Managers (see report). The report was adopted. The class admitted into full connection on yesterday and the transfers were elected to membership. Rev. R. A. Child was given further time to inquire into the legal status of the Lander Female College. Appropriations from the Special Relief Fund to Revs. R. R. Dagnall and A. W. Jackson were distributed. Rev. R. R. Dagnall receiving for himself and Rev. A. E. Holler that for Rev. A. W. Jackson.

R. A. CHILD, Pres.

J. M. STEADMAN, Sec'y.

Report of the Board of Managers Legal Conference.

The Board of Managers of the South Carolina Annual Conference beg leave to make the following report :

The amount on hand for distribution arising from the revenue from funds for the fiscal year is $1,187.52. Of this amount $906.36 arises from funds held in trust for the benevolent collections managed by the Joint Board of Finance, and under the resolution passed by the last session of the Conference has been turned over to the Joint Board for distribution. $6.60 has been derived from funds held in trust for the Bible Cause and has been turned over to the committee on Bible Cause. $274.56 was derived from the Special Relief Fund. $50.00 each has been appropriated to Revs. R. R. Dagnall and A. W. Jackson. The other cases referred to us not being cases of emergency were referred to the Joint Board of Finance. The balance of this fund has been received for cases of emergency which may arise between this and the next Conference. H. P. Williams, as executor of the estate of Geo. W. Williams, has turned over to the Conference trust property in the city of Charleston. The paper of conveyance is in the hands of H. B. Carlisle, Treasurer,

R. A. CHILD, Pres.

J. M. STEADMAN, Sec'y.

MINUTES OF THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Historical Society of the South Carolina Annual Conference of the M. E. C., S., convened in its fiftieth annual session in Central Methodist Church, Spartanburg, S. C., Dec. 12, 1905, at 8 P. M., Rev. H. B. Browne, President, in the chair.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. C. Power, D. D., after which Rev. S. A. Weber, D. D., delivered an address on Methodism in Spartanburg in the days of "Auld Lang Syne." A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Weber, and the President announced that the address would be published in pamphlet form and distributed among the members.

The following report of the Treasurer was read and adopted :

To Cash from 1903.....	$ 56
To Annual Dues paid Dec., 1904.....	36 15
Total.....	$36 71
By cash to balance.	$36 71

The annual dues for 1905 were collected, and the following new members were elected : Revs. Marvin Auld, W. Lester Gault, Geo. T. Harmon, Jr., Walter S. Henry, Geo. W. Dukes, and J. L. Tyler. Mrs. S. A. Weber was also elected to membership in the Society.

Donations for the Museum were made as follows :

By Rev. W. C. Winn, of the Baltimore Conference, through Rev. Marion Dargan, "A piece of the lid of the coffin in which Bishop Asbury was buried, and a letter explaining its preservation."

By Dr. Harris Easterling, of Bennettsville, S. C., through Rev. T. E. Morris, "A copy of The Methodist Magazine for 1798."

By Rev. Walter B. Duncan, "A copy of Twentieth Century Sketches."

Announcements were made, and the Society adjourned, with the doxology and benediction.

H. B. BROWNE, Pres'd't.

J. C. YONGUE, Sec'ty and Treas.
